Apostles' Creed

I believe in God the Father Almighty, Maker of heaven and earth. And in Jesus Christ, his only Son, our Lord; who was conceived by the Holy Spirit Born of the Virgin Mary, Suffered under Pontius Pilate, was crucified, dead, and buried; He descended into Hell The third day he rose again from the dead; He ascended into heaven, And sits on the right hand of God the Father Almighty; From there he shall come to judge the living and the dead. I believe in the Holy Spirit; The holy Catholic Church; The communion of saints; the forgiveness of sins, the resurrection of the body; and the life everlasting. Amen.

MINISTER'S DESK

Serving in harmony

In the body of Christ there should not be any disharmony, in the same way that there should be no disharmony within my own body. If there is any disharmony, it is a disease. But variety is not disharmony. Given the diversity of gifts in church, and the different ways of working inspired by the same spirit of God, it is inevitable that a variety of forms and structures will emerge from time to time in the church. The early church was soon faced with situations of need which required creative combinations of gifts and special abilities to meet them. In one instance a task force of seven spirit-filled men was appointed to take charge of the community feeding programme (Acts 6:1-6). Again, under the direction of the Holy Spirit, the first itinerant missionary band was commissioned and sent forth (Acts 13:13). Life will always break out in new expressions of vitality and energy, which must be channeled into constructive service. Where there is life, many different capacities for service will become apparent. When the leaders of the church lack vision and discernment, the surge of spiritual vitality will prove threatening. Feeling insecure themselves, these leaders may try to suppress the new initiative over which they fear they have no firm control. There are many churches which pour cold water on any life which begins to bubble when they are not bubbling. Any time a person shows initiative, they knock the effort on the head, and the person retreats into the mediocrity which characterizes the majority of other members.

It is frequently the younger people, alive to spiritual things for the first time and flowing over with spiritual vitality, who become frustrated even to the point of having to leave the particular church and seek fellowship somewhere else. True life will always break out in new initiatives. The only place where there is no initiative is in the cemetery, where the occupants stay peaceful in their quiet 'hotel rooms'. We should not make our churches function like cemeteries. The purpose of leadership is to find ways to channel the initiatives of the membership into constructive avenues so that the body is edified. We must encourage the breaking out of these new initiatives so that the church can benefit from them.
